Notification regarding the announcement of an approval sign device: Austauschbremsscheiben

type: FXDW

Dear Sir or Madam,

your application regarding a german type approval for the above mentioned device reached the Kraftfahrt-Bundesamt (KBA). As soon as all documents are submitted KBA will decide on your application.

According to your application following approval sign is announced:

KBA 61362

By this announcement of the approval number in advance the decision on the application regarding a type approval is not anticipated at all. The announcement of the applicable approval number goes along with collateral clauses.

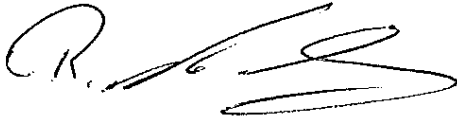

collateral clauses:

The announced approval sign is granted for not more than 12 months starting at the date mentioned above and may be withdrawn, if the type approval is not granted.

In the case of components or separate technical units you are allowed to mark already produced components or separate technical units with the correspondent approval mark before the type approval is granted. It is not allowed to bring these marked components or separate technical units into service before the type approval is granted.

If so marked components or separate technical units are brought into service without having a type approval they may have to be taken from the market on KBA's request.

kind regards
